Site Plan

An aerial photograph of a lush green mountain valley. A paved road with a white dashed line runs diagonally from the bottom left towards the center. A small dark car is visible on the road. The surrounding landscape is covered in dense evergreen and deciduous trees. In the background, more forested hills rise under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. A large blue arrow graphic points from the left towards the right, partially overlapping the text area.

Dayton, Washington

Dayton, Washington, nestled in the Blue Mountains at the confluence of the Touchet River and Patit Creek, is a historic agricultural town (population of ~2,400) known for its well-preserved 19th-century downtown, rich Lewis & Clark Trail history, and oldest operating courthouse in the state, offering a quiet lifestyle surrounded by wheat fields, wineries, and outdoor recreation in Columbia County.

KEY ASPECTS:

- ☼ Location: Southeast Washington, Columbia County seat, in a fertile valley.
- ☼ History: Visited by Lewis & Clark in 1806; incorporated in the 1870s; significant agricultural and pioneer history.
- ☼ Economy: Driven by agriculture (wheat, apples, peas) and growing tourism, with local businesses and events.
- ☼ Attractions: Historic downtown, Dayton Historic Depot, Boldman House Museum, Dumas Station Wines, Bluewood Ski Area, and proximity to the Tucannon River.
- ☼ Community: Small-town feel, strong community spirit, and a focus on preserving its heritage.

WHY PEOPLE VISIT/LIVE THERE:

- ☼ Historic Charm: Beautifully preserved buildings and history.
- ☼ Agriculture & Wine: Scenic farmlands and local wineries.
- ☼ Outdoor Activities: Hiking, skiing, and exploring the Palouse region.
- ☼ Small-Town Life: A peaceful environment with a strong sense of community.

In essence, Dayton offers a step back in time with its historical depth and a connection to nature and agriculture in Eastern Washington.
